We are pleased to announce the South Carolina Re-CHARGE, an exciting new statewide and regional conference for eLearning in higher education! As you know, eLearning and online education have grown into a vital and essential part of the higher education landscape in South Carolina and the southeast region. The conference includes presentations and workshops on issues critical to teaching and learning and administering the online environment. Participants will be administrators, faculty, staff and graduate students participating in or with an interest in eLearning; also those with professional responsibility for supporting eLearning courses, programs, students and systems in higher education. Vendors will also be present for demonstrations on the latest products.

Thomas J. Tobin,
PhD, MSLS, PMP,
MOT

Dr. Thomas Tobin is an author and international speaker on Quality in Higher Education. He has served as a faculty member, faculty developer and professional consultant in the areas of Universal Design for Learning (UDL), evaluating online teaching, copyright in the academy, and academic integrity. The opening keynote will present “Hold the Phone: Designing Effective eLearning with Universal Design for Learning.”

Wanda Barker, BA, MBA

Wanda Barker joined the Southern Region Education Board in January 2015 as director to the organization’s Educational Technology Cooperative, where she brings more than 20 years of experience working on issues of education policy and practice, primarily in the public education sector. Prior to joining SREB, Ms. Barker served as Executive Director of eLearning and Learning Technology Systems at the North Carolina Community College System. She supervised the areas of eLearning, Library Services, and the NC Learning Object Repository, as well as managed the NCCCS Virtual Learning Community®. Ms. Barker’s previous experience also includes service at Catawba Valley Community College, Wake Technical Community College, University of Phoenix, Wilkes County Schools, and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University (VA Tech). Ms. Barker holds a BA in Management Information Systems and a Master of Business Administration.
